More information on back

In Girl Scouts, a girl becomes tomorrow's leader by...

- Discovering herself and her community
- Connecting with others in positive ways
- Taking Action to make the world a better place

Girl Scouts is for all girls ages 5–17.

Girls can be registered individually or in troops.

Parents and other interested adults are needed to form Girl Scout troops. No prior experience is required and training is provided. Join other volunteers to make a difference for girls.
