

Lenore Vardi

taught for many years on the faculty of the prestigious Hoff Barthelson Music School in Scarsdale, N.Y. teaching violin, viola, and chamber music, and instructing individuals ranging in age from 7 to 75.

In NYC and in their Westchester County home, Lenore and her husband, the world renowned viola virtuoso, Emanuel Vardi, also maintained a busy teaching studio where they often collaborated in private lessons and master classes in both violin and viola.

Ms. Vardi is now accepting violin and viola students of all ages by audition.
